

HepatoVen™

Premier Detoxification and Liver Support*

We formulated HepatoVen™ to provide your liver with potent nourishment from nature's most cleansing superfoods and botanicals. Your liver participates in an impressive array of over 500 chemical processes in the body, playing a pivotal role in metabolism, digestion, and immune function. Your liver also filters your blood, purging it of bacteria, viruses, and toxins. Because we are inundated with processed foods, pesticide residues, and plastics, targeted nutritional and detoxification support for the liver is essential—it can aid liver function and promote healing and recovery.

HepatoVen™ includes milk thistle seed (Silybum marianum), which contains high amounts of an antioxidant compound called silymarin. Silymarin has been used and studied clinically for years as a potential treatment for liver disease by promoting liver cell regeneration, shielding the liver from toxins, and combating harmful free radicals.* HepatoVen™ also contains antioxidant-rich artichoke leaf extract (Cynara cardunculus), which supports healthy cholesterol levels and stimulates the production of bile, a digestive fluid that helps the liver eliminate waste from the body.*

We've included a specially curated Liver Support Blend consisting of reishi mushroom, beetroot, prickly pear pads, and chlorella (a type of algae), which further nourish and detoxify the liver. HepatoVen™ also contains a Turmeric/Coriolus Blend with turmeric and turkey tail mushroom (Coriolus versicolor). These ingredients possess strong antioxidant properties and can modulate inflammation.*
